

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What is IAEME?

Ans : The International Association of Engineering and Management Education (IAEME) is found by a group of engineers and management professions in 2009. IAEME membership became open to all the members in the engineering and management community. Nowadays, the IAEME members include research center heads, Head of Institution, faculty deans, department heads, professors, research scientists/engineers, Management Professionals, experienced software development directors and engineers, and university Research scholar, postgraduate and undergraduate students etc., from over one hundred different countries.

IAEME helps the researchers free of cost by providing right direction in their research with the help of its worldwide research association members. For more detail log on to www.iaeme.com
